

grounds to resolve this issue forthwith. I am grateful to our leadership for committing to resolve this issue, and I will continue working with all intensity to do everything I can so that the issue of our assistance that we have committed to our friends and neighbors in Central America that we will be providing is in fact provided.

I would again reiterate my gratitude to the distinguished gentleman from Florida (Mr. DEUTSCH) for bringing forth this motion to instruct, which has given us the opportunity to focus upon an issue of consensus, the need to help our neighbors and our friends in Central America.

I would simply remind our friends and neighbors in Central America, distinguished friends, I think they know who their best friends are as we know who our best friends are. I remind the President of El Salvador and the President of Guatemala that they did not act a few weeks ago as our best friends when they abstained on a motion, a resolution introduced by the government of President Havel of the Czech Republic to remember the only people in this hemisphere, our neighbors as well, the only people who remained in effect bound and gagged and oppressed for 40 years. That was a most unfortunate vote by Guatemala and by El Salvador which deeply disappointed us, but as we stated before, we are hopeful that as that summit approaches in November the ethical conduct, the ethical path will be embarked upon.

Again I thank the gentleman from Florida. This House is united on this issue. We have a leadership that I believe is united on this issue. I know the gentleman has been extremely interested and has exerted great leadership on it. It has been my privilege to work with him, and it will be my privilege to continue working with him to see it through and to make certain that this aid which we have committed to our neighbors and our friends will forthwith in fact be provided.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DEUTSCH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. I too want to congratulate the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DIAZ-BALART), who really has shown an incredible amount of leadership and ability on this issue. We really have been a team effort and this really has been a bipartisan effort by a number of Members in this Congress to really explain to our colleagues the importance of this issue, that this is really clearly in America's national interest and our financial interest and in our moral interest to support and make sure this bill occurs.

I actually look forward to the day when our roles are reversed and I am in the majority helping on these types of issues and my good friend and colleague from Florida is in the minority helping us on these issues and each of us will have a chance to replay some of these thoughts. But really in closing, I guess I would just reiterate what my colleagues have said over the last hour or so, but I will mention one specific thing.

As has been mentioned, I had the opportunity to view some of the devastation. Words truly cannot describe the level of devastation. I mentioned some things in my opening statement, statistics, facts, historical analogies of what has occurred, and they are significant. It is hard to comprehend the pictures on television of the devastation that really did not match in any way in numbers of thousands killed or millions displaced. They do not, I think, give us that sense. We attempt to use those numbers to try to explain to us, but witnessing mud slides that literally wiped out entire villages, there is not a trace, not a building, not a street at all, where literally thousands of people are buried under 40 feet of mud is an incredible sight, the devastation that has occurred. That is really the component, the sort of humanitarian component to show what the United States must do to lend a hand, that we need to, that we did not choose to be in this situation but we are in that situation. If we do not help, the reality is no one will. These economies are not in a position to rebuild on their own in any short period of time.

The number has been mentioned, 25 years. That is not an unfair or unlikely scenario.

Finally in closing, as I mentioned, this really is in our interest. This has been a success story in terms of American foreign policy. As my colleague from Florida has mentioned, we have, unfortunately, only one country in our hemisphere that has not taken the road to democracy and open economies, and hopefully relatively soon that will change as well. But to continue that record we are going to need to pass this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the support of the motion to instruct.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. EWING). Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to instruct.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to instruct offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DEUTSCH).

The motion to instruct was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

REQUEST FOR FUNDS FOR CONTINUED OPERATIONS OF U.S. FORCES IN BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States; which was read and, together with the accompanying papers, without objection, referred to the Committee on International Relations and the Committee on Armed Services, and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress of the United States:

Section 1203 of the Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act For Fiscal Year 1999, Public Law 105-261 (the Act), requires submission of a report to the Congress whenever the President submits a request for funds for continued operations of U.S. forces in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

In connection with my Administration's request for funds for FY 2000, the attached report fulfills the requirements of section 1203 of the Act.

I want to emphasize again my continued commitment to close consultation with the Congress on political and military matters concerning Bosnia and Herzegovina. I look forward to continuing to work with the Congress in the months ahead as we work to establish a lasting peace in the Balkans.
